About Garden Structures and More

Garden Structures and More is the premier designer and builder of pergolas, arbors, fencing, decks, etc. etc. in the Twin Cities metropolitan area. The roots of this business date back some 45 years when Hal Morris the business owner, designer, and craftsman built his first deck in Chicago. That deck apparently was quite a bit ahead of its time in that it had a fire pit in the center and an open Pergola overhead. This design build business prides itself in its craftsmanship and design excellence that it brings to each of its projects small or large.
